

Secure File Sharing A Collaboration Tool

FileSharing

Do you know where your data is?

Know where your data is at all times. It is essential for many businesses. If you are a financial institute or healthcare provider, data protection and encryption is expected – and quite often required – to comply with government regulations.

Proprietary information important to your business?

Save your data in the Cloud and safely share it with others. Share the files in your office between co-workers or customers. Sync documents between office and home.

Encrypt your data not once
not twice

BUT THREE TIMES

A secure file sharing tool must include a unique encryption method, ensuring that data will never be accessible to unauthorized users at any stage. File Locker encrypts three times – locally, in-transit, and at rest in the data center.

File Locker is designed with the highest government encryption specifications.
